Description

Latin Name : Daucus Carota Sativa Part Of Plant Used : Dried Seeds Source : Hungary Extraction Method : Steam Distillation Used in aromatherapy applications, Carrot Seed Essential Oil stimulates circulation as well as brain and nerve functions. Its warm, earthy, woody, and herbaceous scent has a soothing, refreshing, and grounding effect that is known to diminish feelings of fatigue, weakness, anxiety, and stress. Carrot seed essential oil can help you retain your youth. Antioxidants in this essential oil repair the damages done to your tissues by oxidants and stop them from doing further harm. These antioxidants protect your skin from wrinkles, keep your hair from turning white, your joints from stiffening, your muscles from weakening and your eyesight from declining. This powerful essential oil can treat infections and protect against their effects. It has antiseptic properties, including its ability to prevent tetanus. Carrot seed oil can be used for the treatment of infections on the skin and in open wounds. It is used for the treatment of viral infections of the respiratory system, including bronchitis. It is effective in fighting other viral infections as well, including the flu, mumps, coughs, colds, and measles. Carrot seed oil has the ability to detoxify the blood, tissues, muscles, and internal organs like the liver and kidneys. It eliminates toxins like uric acid from the blood, tissues, muscles, and joints, thereby helping to treat and slow the progression of edema, arthritis, gout, and rheumatism.
